CENTER OF HISTORIC INTEREST

CHARLOTTE and Mecklenburg County comprise a region rich in historic lore, The early settlers came in three waves—the Scotch-Irish from Pennsylvania and Virginia; the Germans from the same parts of the country; the English, Scotch, Germans, Huguenots and Swiss from the South by way of Charleston and Georgetown. Charlotte, named for Princess Charlotte of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, wife of George the Third, was incorpoorated in 1768 . The citizens of Charlotte in convention assembled, electrified by the news of the Battle of Lexington, made the first declaration of independence from the British Crown, known as the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence, on May 20, 1775. Cornwallis, while headquartered in Charlotte, named the town "The Hornet's Nest," on account of the activities of the Patriots. Andrew Jackson, seventh President of the United States, was born in Mecklenburg County, March 15, 1767. James K. Polk, eleventh President of the United States, was born at Pineville, just outside of Charlotte, November 2, 1795, Jefferson Davis held the last meeting of the Confederate Cabinet in Charlotte, April 20, 1865.
